OLD MAN'S QUEER DELUSIONS.

Is Evicted and Then Placed Under Observation. Emil Dannheuser, an old German garden

er, is at the City Hospital pending the re-suit of an examination of his mental condition. He lived in the rear of No. 2125 Gever tion. He lived in the rear of No. 2125 Geyer avenue until Tucsday, when he was evicted by a Constable, who placed his meager belongings in the alley.

When put out on the street the old man began to act peculiarly. He cut several branches from a tree in the alley and stuck them in the ground, declaring he was making a garden. Next he strewed a lot of garbage about, as he said, for a fertilizer. Around a lot of weeds he planted he placed chicken claws and feathers for a border. It is one of his delusions that he is employed in the secret service of the United States and Germany. About a month ago his wife became blind, and it is said he drove her away from home. Some neighbors took charge of her and put her in a charitable institution.

BIG STORES MAY BE CLOSED THREE DAYS

Members of Wholesale and Retail Firms Willing to Give Employes Extra Holidays.

FOURTH FALLS ON FRIDAY.

This Would Give the Clerks Satur day and Sunday Off if an Agreement Can Be Reached.

Wholesale and retail stores generally con template closing on July 5, as the Fourth falls on Friday. This would give employes three days' vacation. Managers of nearly all the large downtown stores displayed a lesire to give their employes a vacation if other houses would agree. In New York and Chicago this scheme has been suggested and meets with hearty support, and the Saturday following July 4 will be as quiet in business sections as the day before was noisy and aproarious. It is probable that the St. Louis Stock Exchange and it is possible that the Merchant's Ex-change also will be closed on that day, following the action of the New York stock change also will be closed on that day, following the action of the New York stock and grain exchanges.

Employers state that by giving their employes short vacations from time to time it stimulates their interest in the business of the company. It gives them a needed rest, and following the rest they will work with renewed vigor.

Edward S. Lewis, second vice president of the Hargadine-McKittrick Dry Goods Company, said: "I am in favor of giving our employes an extra holiday. Of course, the store will be closed Friday, and I intend to bring the matter of closing Saturday before the officers of the company at once. Our employes deserve the extra holiday and I am disposed to give it to them. If the other wholesale houses agree to this plan, the Washington avenue district will do no business on the day following the glorious Fourth."

Forrest Ferguson, president of the Ferguson-McKinney Dry Goods Company, was also in favor of the extra holiday plan. He said: "Our store will necessarily have to be partially open the day following the Fourth, while we are moving, but if the other wholesale houses agree we will do no business that day, and only those employes who are absolutely required to help in the moving will be obliged to work."

In the retail district Dan C. Nugent of B. Nugent & Bro., Aaron Fuller of Stix, Baer & Fuller, D. Crawford of D. Crawford & Co., Alexander Penny of Penny & Gentles, Mr. George M. Wright of Barr's and other members of retail firms signified their willingness to close July 5.

CHARLES W. PINCKARD DEAD. Was Shot by Abe Slupsky Last April.

avenue, who was shot in a quarrel with Abe Slupsky on April 39, died at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. Doctor A. C. Leggett of No. 4625 Washington boulevard made a post-mortem examination, declaring that death was the result of an abscess caused by a builet wound.

Coroner Funkhouser will hold an inquest on the body this morning. Surgeky is out on $2,900 bond to answer an indictment charging him with assault to kill. Pinckard's death will act as a bar to that prosecution. Now Slupsky must answer a charge of murder or manslaughter, or he will be released altogether.

The shooting occurred in front of Slupsky's home, at No. 339 Lactee avenue, on a Sunday afternoon. In the morning a ball, with which some children were playing, was lost in Slupsky's yard. The boys were unable to find it, and words followed. It is said Slupsky made some remark which caused Mrs. Pinckard to go to her husband. That afternoon he went to Slupsky's house while the latter was preparing to take a drive. There were angry words, followed by shots. Slupsky claims Pinchard drew a revolver, which he dropped in the scuffe. Slupsky says he picked it up and shot Pinckard twice in self-defense. One shot entered the abdomen and the other pierced the right leg.

Trenton Falls, N. Y.

Trenton Falls, N. Y.

For a great many years Trenton Falls has been known as a summer resort with more than usual attractions. At this point the West Canada Creek, which drains a large area of the Bouthern Adirondacks, descends about 300 feet through a picturesque gorge, forming a series of wonderfully beautiful falls and caseades, called by the Indians Kauyahoo-ra "Leaping Water." For several years the surroundings have been undergoing extensive improvements; an electric plant has been installed, and the falls, gorge and woods are illuminated by night.

CANAL BILL GOES TO THE PRESIDENT

Senate and House Adopted Conference Reports-General De-

Oil men operating in the Beaumont field believe there is little or no cause for apprehension from the filing of a suit against the title to Spindletop property, and for the title to Spindletop property, and for damages in the sim of $14,650,000, as an-nounced in dispatches from Beaumont yes-terday. It has been known for several months that such a proceeding would be in-stituted. The merit of the latest claim, which is made by the helrs of Belham Humphries and based on a Mexican land grant, said to have been made in 1835, will be determined by the courts, and in the meantime the oil industry will not be dis-determined by the courts, and in the meantime the oil industry will not be disturbed in any respect.

The Belham Humphries League, as it is known, takes in three-quarters or more of the proven field, according to boundaries named in the petition. Twenty-one individuals and 27 oil companies are named as defendants. In so far as the Hogg-Swayne tract—embodying fifteen acres in blocks 28, 37 and 38, Spindletop Heights—is concerned, the suit does not affect the companies which have holdings therein, guarantes of title being given by the syndicate to all purchasers of its property. The syndicate will protect all who bought property within its fifteen acres, and this fact reduces the actual number of companies affected to a very small proportion of the total number named in the petition.

Referring to the suit yesterday, Holland S. Reavis, who arrived from Beaumont Tuesday, and is here for a brief business visit, said:

"The filing of this suit had been expected for months, and oil operators have been in no way disturbed by the matter. It is the rule in all instances of rich mineral discoveries that claims against title to the valuable land or territory are filed by a host of claimants. As a role, if there is merit in any of the claim which was confield, I know that the claim which was confield. I know that the claim which was confield, I know that the claim which was confield. I know that the claim which was confield, I know that the claim which was confield. I know that the claim which was confield to have the greatest merit was set-

"The filing of this suit had been expected for months, and oil operators have been in no way disturbed by the matter. It is the rule in all instances of rich mineral discoveries that claims against title to the valuable land or territory are filed by a host of claimants. As a role, if there is merit in any of the claims, they are compromised, and in the case of the Beaumont field. I know that the claim which was considered to have the greatest merit was settled on remarkably reasonable terms. The larger companies—including the Hogs-Swayne syndicate, which probably will protect all companies operating in what is known as the Hogs-Swayne tract—are prepared for such suits, and take them as a matter of course. I do not doubt that more talk is occasioned at points distant from the field than is caused right in Beaumont by this latest action."

The ordination service yesterday morning was as follows: During the reading of the litanles the students prostrated themselves in token of their deep humility. Then for the first time they were to come forward and touch the patent and chalice, which signified their reception as a candidate for the priesthood. Next they were permitted to touch the cruets of water and wine. Simplified their reception as a candidate in the administration of the holy eucharist. They then received the amice, the manipus and dalmatic, which was part of their initiation into the office of priesthood, and then placed their hands upon the Gospeis and Epistles, signifying their right to interpret the sacred documents. The last act in the ceremony was the receiving from the Archbishop the blessed sacrament.

The Shoe and Leather Gazette says:

For several months we have seen with no little interest the development of a new last that is a distinct departure from the ordinary last, and promises to become very popular with good dressers. We refer to the "Custom Toe." as exploited locally by Harris, "the $4.00 shoe man."

This last was originated several years ago by a $1, Louis bench worker who caters to the best trade.

In adapting the last to factory goods some trouble was had and the first production was not entirely satisfactory, but, having overcome this trouble. Mr. Harris is having an almost phenomenal demand from the better trade, over 400 pairs having been sold since the first of the year.

The distinctive points of the custom toe's construction are the long curved sole, the long front vamp, the depth of vamp over the ball of the foot and the extreme thinness of toe extremity. The curl of the sole forms an easy bed for the ball of the foot, and as there is an extra fullness of vamp at this point the regular 7E foot flis snugly and comfortably an SC last. Because of the very thin last at the toe extremity great care must be used in lasting and handling to prevent the last breaking. This difficulty will prevent imitations in the cheeper grades, and will naturally prolong the desirability of the custom toe.
